Article I

General Overview

The Chief Financial Officer (“CFO”) has a statutory duty to fully invest or deposit State funds in order that the State may realize maximum earnings and benefits. The Florida Division of Treasury (“Treasury”) manages monies belonging to State Agencies and other entities created by Florida State Constitution or Law (Special Purpose Investment Accounts (“SPIA”)). The Treasury’s principal investment management objectives, in descending order of priority, are as follows:

- Provide Liquidity
- Preserve Principal
- Provide Incremental Income

This Comprehensive Investment Policy (“CIP”) sets forth the general principles that govern the investments and investment personnel of the Treasury.

The investments are allocated among eight Treasury investment portfolios/programs:

1. Liquidity Portfolio
2. Ultra-Short Duration Portfolio
3. Short Duration Portfolio
4. Intermediate Duration Portfolio
5. Long Duration Portfolio
6. Short-Term Investment Fund
7. Securities Lending Program
8. Time Deposits Program

Collectively, these Treasury investment portfolios/programs are referred to as the “Investment Pool”.

The Treasury will present updates to the CIP to the Treasury Investment Council (“Council”) for review annually or more frequently if needed. The Director of the Division of Treasury has final approval authority for the CIP.

Section 3
OPERATIONAL POLICIES

Article VI

Investment Goals

The Treasury's principal investment goals, in descending order of priority, are as follows:

Liquidity

The Treasury must be in a position to meet all cash outflow needs of the State and SPIA. While it is essential to invest all available funds, it is equally essential for the Treasury to maintain sufficient liquidity to provide for expected disbursement demands plus a level of other unforeseen outflows.

Preservation of Principal

The investment of funds by the Treasury must be performed with the emphasis on preservation of principal over return on investment. All investments are subject to risk. The primary types of risks are credit risk, interest rate risk, sector risk, manager risk and derivatives risk. Investment decisions should be made with a focus on minimizing these risks in line with each portfolio's objective. A risk/return analysis should be conducted at the portfolio and Investment Pool level as needed based on the current economic conditions and the State's needs.

Incremental Income

The Treasury will invest excess funds to provide incremental income while considering liquidity needs and monitoring risks as provided above. Some methods employed by the Treasury to provide incremental income are:

- Appropriate allocation among the Investment Portfolios
- Active Investment Management
- Securities Lending Program

The Investment Pool is managed so as to avoid any instance of negative monthly income.

Article VII

Portfolio Allocation

Portfolio allocation refers to the strategic deployment of assets among the Treasury's investment portfolios and programs (excluding Securities Lending Program). The portfolio allocation decision reflect the investment goals discussed in the previous Article and is expected to be the single greatest determinant of risk and income generation ability of the Investment Pool.

The portfolio allocation is implemented using permissible ranges for each portfolio and program. The ranges are established based on three principles: 1) to ensure that Investment Pool is able to provide ample liquidity to both State and non-State Pool participants on a daily basis in normal markets and during periods of intense market stress, 2) to ensure a minimum degree of diversification across the yield curve and fixed income sectors and 3) to ensure that earnings are prudently maximized.

The current ranges are as follows:

	Range
Liquidity plus Ultra-Sort Duration Portfolios	30%-70%
Short Duration Portfolio	10%-50%
Intermediate Duration Portfolio	10%-50%
Long Duration Portfolio	10%-50%
Time Deposits Program	0%-6% (with a goal of 5%)

These ranges allow for a high degree of flexibility in the allocation of the Investment Pool and will remain in effect under normal conditions. However, a very substantial change in the financial conditions of the State and its liquidity needs or a change in capital market conditions might lead to a reassessment of the permissible ranges.

The Work Group will monitor the Investment Pool allocation on a monthly basis to verify compliance with the established portfolio ranges. At least once a year, the Work Group, in consultation with the Investment Consultant, will also conduct a more in-depth analysis of current and expected financial market conditions, state economic conditions as well as budget estimates to help determine the appropriate target within its respective range for each portfolio.

Article VIII

Risk Management

The primary approach to managing risk is to monitor principal quantitative and qualitative risk factors relative to benchmarks while continuing to pursue active returns. The below risk measures will be used to evaluate the risk in the Investment Pool in relation to the current/forecasted economic and market outlook. The following subsections identify the key risk areas with risk management parameters.

Active Risk

Active risk, as measured using tracking error, is the risk associated with the differences in returns between the policy benchmark and the actual results of the portfolio. Tracking error is measured as the standard deviation of the difference between the monthly returns of an active manager's actual portfolio and their respective benchmark(s). The active risk of the Investment Pool will be measured using the most recent trailing five years (60 months). If the upper bound of a targeted active risk range is pierced, further evaluation of the risk in the program and/or Investment Pool will be initiated. The budgeted amount of active risk for the entire Investment Pool will be up to 100 basis points with each portfolio range as follows:

Portfolios	Benchmark	Target Range
Liquidity Portfolio	Bank of America Merrill Lynch 0-3 month T-Bill	0 – 35 bps
Ultra-Short Duration Portfolio	Bank of America Merrill Lynch 0-2 year U.S Treasuries	0 – 50 bps
Short Duration Portfolio	Bank of America Merrill Lynch 1-3 year Government/Corporate, A or better	0 – 75 bps
Intermediate Duration Portfolio	Barclays Capital Intermediate U.S. Gov. / Credit	0 – 150 bps
Long Duration Portfolio	Barclays Capital U.S. Aggregate Bond Index	0 – 200 bps

Interest Rate Risk

Interest rate risk will be managed by limiting the maximum maturity of investments or effective duration of the portfolio which is detailed in the Portfolios' Investment Policies.

Credit Risk

Issuer concentration is limited by the Portfolios' Investment Policies.

Sector Risk

Each portfolio is expected to be broadly diversified and may have deviations from the benchmark sector weightings. Sector exposures will be monitored by the Investment Work Group to identify the scale of under- and over- allocations and for performance attribution analysis. The active risk constraints in conjunction with the use of broad-based asset class benchmarks will have the effect of limiting sector concentration.

Manager Risk

The allocation to any single External Manager in the Intermediate Duration and Long Duration Programs is limited to 20% of the individual External Manager's fixed income assets under management.

Derivatives Risk

Derivatives usage and limitations as well as risk management requirements are detailed in the Long Duration Portfolio Policy as well as Article XXIII.

Article IX

Investment Pool Rating

The Investment Pool must be rated by at least one nationally recognized rating service. The Investment Pool should be managed in a manner that maintains a rating of A+/A1 or better.

Article X

Ethics

All Treasury investment employees and members of the Investment Work Group will be subject to the following requirements.

- Treasury investment employees must abide by Administrative Policy and Procedure Number 5-05, Department of Financial Service's Code of Ethics.
- The interests of the funds managed by the Treasury should be of paramount importance to each Treasury investment employee. Treasury investment employees must always exercise care and caution to place the interests of the Treasury before their own.
- No Treasury investment employee may influence the investment decision making process of the Treasury for personal gain or private advantage or in a manner detrimental to the interests of the Treasury.
- Treasury investment employees must avoid actions or activities that bring into question that person's independence of judgment with respect to the execution of professional responsibilities.
- All personal investment transactions must be accomplished in such a manner as to avoid even the mere appearance of impropriety or a conflict of interest on the part of Treasury investment employees. This includes, but is not limited to, refraining from undertaking personal investment transactions with the same individuals with whom business is conducted on behalf of the Treasury.

Article XI

Standard of Care

Investment decisions shall be made with judgment and care, under circumstances then prevailing, which persons of prudence, discretion and intelligence exercise in the management of their own affairs, not for speculation, but for investment, considering the probable safety of their capital as well as the probable income to be derived. In addition to considering the probable safety of capital and income of an investment, economic benefits issuers can provide the State may also be considered in investment decisions.

Article XII

Internal Controls

The Investment Work Group shall follow the requirements of Administrative Policy and Procedure Number 1-02. Internal controls will be established to maintain an adequate internal control structure designed to reasonably protect the Investment Pool's assets from loss, theft or misuse.

Article XIII

Continuing Education

All Treasury investment employees and members of the Investment Work Group will complete at least 10 hours of continuing education annually. Continuing education will be in the form of an actual training event such as attending conferences in person, through webinars or conference calls. The education should be focused on economics, ethics, financial accounting and/or fixed income topics. The hours must be kept by the employee and submitted to the Compliance Officer no later than January 15th of each year.

Article XIV

Compliance

General investment compliance for the Investment Pool will be conducted by an independent Compliance Officer who reports directly to the Treasury Director. Compliance procedures will be maintained by the Compliance Officer.

Article XV

Custodial Risk

The Treasury shall utilize a third party custodial agent for book entry transactions, all of which shall be held in an account in the name of the Florida Department of Financial Services. The custodial agent shall be an organization authorized to do work in the United States who has an account with the Federal Reserve. The custodial agent will also provide their most recent report on internal controls upon request.

If securities are not held by the custodial agent, the security must be held in an account in the name of the Florida Department of Financial Services.

Time Deposits shall be held in the CFO's name and covered under FDIC insurance as well as Chapter 280, Florida Statutes, Public Deposit Program.

Article XVI

Downgraded Securities

Any security held in the Investment Pool that is downgraded below Investment Policy restrictions must adhere to the following:

- The Portfolio Manager must notify the Investment Work Group in writing (email, fax or letter) within two (2) days of the downgrade that triggers a compliance exception.
- Treasury will alert the Portfolio Manager of the requirement to liquidate the security within 90 days of the compliance exception, or to request inclusion of the security as defined in Article XVII.

A security whose credit rating is downgraded, but not to the extent that a compliance exception is generated, is not subject to this Article.

Article XVII

Section 17.57(2)(v), Florida Statutes Investments

Section 17.57(2)(v), Florida Statutes, allows 3% of funds under the control of the CFO to be invested in securities not specifically provided for within Section 17.57(2), Florida Statutes. The Treasury considers these securities as “Basket Clause” securities.

Prior approval must be obtained from the Investment Work Group to purchase any security not specifically permitted in Section 17.57(2), Florida Statutes. Any such security that is purchased without prior approval must be sold immediately.

Securities that are in compliance with the requirements of Section 17.57(2), Florida Statutes, at the time of purchase but fall out of compliance due to an event such as a rating downgrade will be placed in the Basket Clause upon the date the security is no longer in compliance. These securities can stay in the Basket Clause for up to 90 days with no approval requirements. If a Portfolio Manager believes that it is in the best interest of the Investment Pool to hold a Basket Clause security for greater than 90 days, that Portfolio Manager can present a recommendation to hold the security along with justification in writing to the Investment Work Group. The Investment Work Group will review each request and vote to approve or deny the request. If the Investment Work Group approves the request, the Portfolio Manager will be allowed to hold the security longer than the 90 day limit. Approved securities will be reviewed in March and September of each year. As part of the review, the Portfolio Manager will submit updated recommendations which will go through the Investment Work Group review and approval process.

A report of outstanding Basket Clause securities will be presented to the Council at each meeting.

If determined in the best interest of the Investment Pool by the Investment Work Group and/or the CFO, any security in the Basket Clause can be required to be sold immediately.

Article XVIII

Broker-Dealer Requirements

The Internal Investment section will transact all trades through an approved broker-dealer except for trading mutual funds, Israel Bonds and some commercial paper. The broker-dealer must be designated as a primary dealer by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York or be one of the top 20 underwriters of investment grade U.S. corporate bonds within the last two years (by dollar volume). Broker-dealers must be incorporated in the United States and willing to do business with the Treasury. A review process will be completed annually on existing and potential broker-dealers.

Article XIX

The provider shall exercise prudence and expertise in managing the cash collateral reinvestment function and comply with Article XXXII, the Investment Policy for Securities Lending.

Article XX

Placement Agents

The Treasury does not deal directly with Placement Agents in the process of selecting and hiring External Managers and broker-dealers. A Placement Agent is defined as any person or entity hired, engaged or retained by, or serving for the benefit of or acting on behalf of an External Manager, broker-dealer or on behalf of another Placement Agent, who acts or has acted for compensation, directly or indirectly, as a finder, solicitor, marketer, broker, lobbyist, or other intermediary to raise money or investment from, or to obtain access to the Florida Treasury, whether compensated, directly or indirectly, on a flat fee, contingent fee or any other basis.

Treasury identifies and reviews External Manager candidates independently and pays fees directly to the investment manager. Treasury will not directly pay management fees of any kind to any Placement Agent.

All External Managers must provide the following information to the Treasury prior to conducting business with the Treasury and annually thereafter:

- A statement whether the External Manager, or any of its principals, employees, agents or affiliates has compensated or agreed to compensate, directly or indirectly, any person or entity to act as a Placement Agent in connection with any investment by the Treasury, and if so, the name of the Placement Agent.
- A statement disclosing whether any Placement Agent has compensated or agreed to compensate, directly or indirectly, any third party (including a sub-contractor) to solicit an investment by the Treasury or who is paid based upon an investment commitment by the Treasury (Third Party Placement Agent).

- A description of the services to be performed by the Placement Agent, including whether the nature of the services are either ministerial or influential, and a statement as to whether the Placement Agent is utilized by the External Manager with all prospective clients or only with a subset of the External Manager's prospective clients.
- A statement confirming that the Placement Agent and any Third Party Placement Agent, if applicable, is registered with the SEC or the Financial Industry Regulatory Association or a similar regulatory body (which must be disclosed) in a country other than the United States.

Article XXI

External Investment Manager Selection

Treasury will prudently select external fixed income investment managers ("Managers") based on their respective expertise relative to the investment mandate the Treasury seeks to fulfill or the investment service the Treasury seeks to receive.

New Managers are added for a variety of reasons including, but not limited to:

- Need for increased investment capacity
- Enhanced diversification of Managers
- Addition of new strategies or styles
- Termination of existing external Managers

Managers interested in providing their services to the Treasury are required to complete the Investment Manager Questionnaire (“Questionnaire”) located on the Treasury’s web site at <http://www.fltreasury.org>.

Managers must satisfy the following criteria to be considered in the selection process:

- Must be a bank, insurance company, or investment adviser as defined by the Investment Advisers Act of 1940.
- Must be registered and in good standing with the Securities and Exchange Commission.
- Must have a minimum of five years with the desired investment style, demonstrate continuity of key personnel, have institutional fund experience, and accept Treasury’s standard fee schedule or a lower fee schedule.
- Must have a clearly defined investment philosophy and decision-making process.
- Must demonstrate generally favorable consistent historical performance in relation to the External Investment Manager Program benchmark, calculated per the CFA Institute Global Investment Performance Standards (GIPS).
- Must have Assets Under Management greater than 5 times the proposed allocation.

Selection Based on Specific Need

The Investment Work Group will consider Managers that are included in databases maintained by its Custodial Bank, Investment Consultant and/or other industry recognized databases that have an expertise in the area of need. The Investment Work Group will perform the steps necessary to ensure that subjectivity and bias are minimized in the Manager selection process and that appropriate due diligence is conducted on selected Managers. Each selected Manager will be presented to the Council for comment and to the CFO for approval. Once approved, the selected Manager will enter into a Treasury’s standard Investment Manager Agreement.

Annual Review

At least annually, the Investment Work Group will review the completed Questionnaires and any other available data on potential Managers to determine if adding new Managers to the External Investment Manager Program would be appropriate.

Article XXII

External Investment Manager Monitoring

Monitoring

Treasury's goal is to determine, as best as possible, the likelihood of future success of each Manager hired. Decisions regarding retention or termination of Investment Managers will be based on qualitative factors which affect the character or stability of the firm, quantitative factors relating to performance and risk-adjusted rankings or on a combination of both.

Treasury continuously monitors each Manager and utilizes a Watch List to facilitate retention/termination decisions. The purpose of the Watch List is to define the conditions that will cause Treasury to formally evaluate and scrutinize Managers for continued retention in the program. Placing a Manager on the Watch List is an intermediate step toward either resolving the problem or terminating the Manager.

When a Manager is placed on the Watch List, Treasury will conduct a thorough evaluation of the firm to determine the cause of the underperformance or other quantitative factor. Treasury may engage its external Investment Consultant to assist in this exercise. The review will focus on whether the Manager currently embodies characteristics sufficient to provide reasonable assurance the Treasury's investment goals will be achieved in the future. In addition, an immediate reduction of assets or other sanctions may be imposed on the Manager upon being added to the Watch List.

During the Watch List period, the Manager must work toward resolving the item/issue that placed them on the Watch List, outperform their appropriate benchmark (net of fees) on a rolling three (3) month and one-year basis and meet any other requirements the Treasury determines appropriate.

Twelve months will generally be the time frame over which improvement or resolution of the issues/problems will be expected to occur. However, significant continued deterioration of performance or failure to make adequate progress in qualitative issues may result in a decision to take action prior to the conclusion of the watch period.

At the end of the Watch List period, Treasury will determine whether to remove the Manager from the Watch List, extend the Watch List period, terminate the Manager or take other appropriate action.

Outside of this Watch List process, Managers serve at the pleasure of the Treasury and may be terminated or defunded at the Treasury's discretion and without notice, irrespective of any other provisions of this policy.

The quantitative and qualitative conditions for placing a Manager on the Watch List are described below:

Quantitative Watch List Factors

Quantitative factors that will be monitored and may result in placing a Manager on the Watch List or terminating a Manager include any of the following:

- Trailing 5-year annualized net performance below the established benchmark for six of the prior twelve months.
- Trailing 3-year annualized net performance below the established benchmark for nine out of the prior twelve months.
- The Manager's Risk-Adjusted Ranking falls in the bottom quartile of the applicable Treasury portfolio roster of Managers for nine out of the prior twelve months.
- Trailing 1-year net performance below the established benchmark and ranking in the bottom half of mandate managers for nine out of the prior twelve months.

In the case of Managers with a longer term history with Treasury, consideration may be given to since-inception data.

Qualitative Watch List Factors

Qualitative factors that may result in placing a Manager on the Watch List or terminating a Manager include any of the following:

- Any changes in the Manager's investment process or strategy
- A change at the Manager resulting in deterioration in the efficacy of the investment process and any ongoing performance problems
- Any changes in the Manager's ownership or business plan
- Advent of material litigation
- Turnover/loss of key personnel related to Treasury's portfolio
- Any material change in clients and/or assets under management in the product managed for Treasury
- Deterioration in client service
- A change in the Manager's capital structure

Manager Reviews

Treasury continuously monitors each Manager's performance relative to the applicable benchmark and Program peers. Monthly reports detail net performance, risk-adjusted returns, asset allocations and Manger Rankings as well as various other risk metrics. Regular monthly calls with each Manager provide additional insight into Manager's economic outlook, investment views, recent portfolio ideas and trades as well as discussion of any pertinent topics that influence the firm and its investment decisions.

Formal Manager Reviews with Treasury staff will be conducted at least annually as a means of discussing each Managers performance, organization, staff and investment strategy. Manager reviews will normally be conducted during January and / or February, covering the previous 6 and 12 month periods. The reviews may be held via conference call, at Treasury's office, or at the Manager's location. Treasury may decide that Managers on the Watch List or those substantially underperforming their peers, but not yet on Watch, will be subject to a second Formal Review during July / August.

Each Manager Review consists of many discussion topics, including but not limited to the following:

- An overview of the organization, including any material changes or updates to its structure, ownership, investment process or philosophy, assets under management and/or the stability of the firm's business.
- Any loss of key personnel and/or clients.
- A review of the portfolio and its risk metrics.
- Operational factors including compliance and controls.
- A market review including the firm's short-term economic forecast.
- Comparison of the Manager's Program and Composite performance within the specific Treasury mandate relative to its Program peers as well as a broader universe of managers as maintained in a third party global data base.

Manager Ranking System

Treasury will utilize a Manager ranking system that, at a minimum, will consider each Manager's net performance, information ratio, Sharpe ratio and alpha. The ranking system will be utilized for allocation of new funds into a mandate, withdrawal of funds from a mandate and/or re-allocation of asset among Managers within mandates. These decisions can be made independent of the Watch List process.

Recommendations

An update of the status of all Managers on the Watch List and any proposed actions will be presented at each Investment Council meeting for discussion and comment. Article XXIII

Derivatives Policy

The Investment Pool is allowed to invest in the following types of derivatives: Options, Interest Rate Futures and Mortgage TBAs. If used appropriately, derivative contracts can be an important component of a portfolio by reducing risk, providing a cheaper, more efficient manner in which to obtain market exposure or to expand the opportunity set in which portfolio managers seek to add value.

Derivatives are further restricted in the Long Duration Portfolio's Investment Policy.

Article XXIV

Security Pricing

Investment securities pricing is provided by the custodian through the Custodian Contract.

Article XXV

Special Purpose Investment Account

Special Purpose Investment Accounts (SPIA) allow specific entities to participate in the Treasury Investment Pool. The specific entities are State agencies (for funds outside the accounting system), Component Units of the State and Component Units of Universities and Colleges. State Agencies participate without any limitations. Component Units of the State and Component Units of Universities and Colleges are subject to a minimum balance requirement. The minimum balance requirement is 60% of their average investment balance for the previous three months. Six months notice is required to liquidate below this minimum balance. Accounts involving bond proceeds are exempt from the minimum balance requirement. Treasury may also limit the amount of funds that may be invested in SPIA. Currently, the Non-State Agency SPIA participation (excluding bond accounts) is limited to 30% of the overall Investment Pool balance.

Article XXVI

Prohibited Securities and the Protecting Florida's Investment Act

The Protecting Florida's Investments Act (PFIA) requires the Florida State Board of Administration (SBA) to assemble and publish a list of "Scrutinized Companies" that have prohibited business operations in Sudan or Iran. The SBA and its investment managers are prohibited from acquiring those companies' securities. While not required by PFIA, Treasury will also refrain from acquiring securities from the companies on the SBA's list of "Scrutinized Companies."

The Trustees of the SBA set forth policy language (August 2017) prohibiting the investment in (a) any financial institution or company domiciled in the United States, which directly or through a United States or foreign subsidiary and in violation of federal law, makes any loan, extends credit of any kind or character, advances funds in any manner, or purchases or trades any goods or services in or with the government of Venezuela: and (b) any securities issues by the government of Venezuela or any company that is majority-owned by the government of Venezuela. The Treasury will also refrain from acquiring such securities.

 - (a) An employee seeking a license of some type with the Department.
 - (b) An employee who has filed a consumer complaint with the Department.
 - (c) An employee who has filed a claim for unclaimed property.
2. An employee shall, within twenty-four (24) hours of knowledge of a matter, notify his or her supervisor if an employee’s relative, or a business in which the employee’s relative retains a financial interest, has regulatory or contractual business pending before the Department. Circumstances that do not constitute a conflict of interest are limited to:

- (a) A relative seeking a license of some type with the Department.
 - (b) A relative who has filed a consumer complaint with the Department.
 - (c) A relative who has filed a claim for unclaimed property.

C. Abuse of Position of Public Trust

1. Department employees shall not use their official position, or the powers of their office, to benefit their own personal interests. This provision will be interpreted broadly to ensure that employees will not abuse the powers of their office for their own personal interests or gain. Examples of prohibited conduct are:

Employees who participate in political campaigns or political activities during normal business hours should do so only when they have received prior approval to take annual leave. 1. Employees with knowledge of applicants who possess characteristics particularly suitable to vacancies in the Department should feel welcome to refer those applicants to the Chief of Human Resource Management. However, employees are prohibited from influencing the hiring of relatives for positions within the Department by directly contacting the hiring manager. Anytime an employee recommends a relative for a position within the Department, the employee should first consult with the Department's Ethics Officer prior to making the recommendation.

2. An employee may not appoint, employ, promote, or advance for appointment, employment, promotion, or advancement, in or to a position, over which the employee exercises jurisdiction or control, any individual who is a relative of the employee.
3. Employees shall not procure contractual services for the Department from a business in which a relative is an officer, partner, director or owner.

I. Disclosure Requirements

1. Florida law requires certain employees to file a full and public disclosure of their financial interests with the Florida Commission on Ethics. This disclosure is designed to assure the public that employees' decisions are made impartially and in the public interest, and not for personal gain. Employees shall review and follow the applicable financial disclosure requirements found in Section 112.3145, Florida Statutes.

3. An employee is prohibited from accepting any gift, directly or indirectly, from a political committee or committee of continuous existence, from a vendor doing business with the employee's agency, from a lobbyist who lobbies the Department, from the partner, firm, employer, or principal of such lobbyist, or from a person or entity doing business with the Department, unless the following limited exceptions apply:
 - (a) Gifts can be accepted from relatives, unless the relative is a lobbyist or a principal of a lobbyist, in which case the general prohibition on receipt of gifts from lobbyists applies. Employees who are married to or involved in a personal relationship with a lobbyist or the principal of a lobbyist shall consult with the Department's Ethics Officer on how to address this situation.
 - (b) Gifts can be accepted from personal friends in the ordinary course of friendship, provided that the personal friend is not:
 - (i) a lobbyist; or
 - (ii) a partner, firm, member, employer, employee or principal of a lobbyist; or
 - (iii) a person having a regulatory or contractual interest (either individually or through a corporation or organization) in a matter pending before the Department; or

 - (v) a person (either individually or through a corporation or organization) seeking such business from the Department.

(c) On-site consumption of food or refreshment at receptions and/or other events (even if valued at over $25.00) is permissible provided that the employee's attendance at such event is an appropriate exercise of the employee's official duties. The consumption of food or refreshment at such events, that is provided by or paid for by a lobbyist, principal of a lobbyist, a vendor doing business or seeking to do business with the Department, or an entity regulated by the Department is prohibited. However, if the reception and/or event is part of a sponsored conference, meeting, or other function for which the Department has paid a registration fee or cost for the employee's attendance, and the registration fee or cost includes food or refreshment as part of the printed agenda or other registration materials, the food or refreshment is not a gift and is therefore allowable for on-site consumption.

4. If an employee receives an unsolicited gift which is prohibited under this Code of Ethics, the employee should notify his supervisor and return the gift to the sender. If an employee receives a perishable gift, such as a fruit basket, the employee should donate the gift to a charitable organization. The employee should then write the donor and explain that while appreciated, Department employees are prohibited from receiving gifts under this Code of Ethics.
5. An employee is prohibited from soliciting or knowingly accepting an honorarium from a political committee or committee of continuous existence, from a vendor doing business with the employee's agency, from a lobbyist who lobbies the employee's agency, or from the employer, principal, partner, or firm of such a lobbyist.

K. If an employee has any questions regarding this Code of Ethics, or needs practical advice regarding the ethics of a particular situation, the Ethics Officer to the Department is available to discuss these concerns.

V. DEFINITIONS

Business Process: The activities that produce outputs, which contribute towards the achievement of the Department's mission. Operational Objective: Established standards of efficiency for achievement of process objectives.

Physical Safeguard: The measure(s) taken to prevent loss through the use of locks, burglar proofing, guards, etc., that prevent disaster through access controls, alarms, fireproof vaults, fire-suppression (sprinkler) systems, power backups, etc.

Reasonable Assurance: Acknowledgment that it is not possible to assert, with certainty, that an event will or will not occur.

Reconciliation: The item by item examination of two related sets of figures obtained from different sources.

Reporting Objective: The objective that all information reported on a process is valid and reliable.

Residual Risk: The remaining risk after management has taken action to alter the risk's likelihood or impact.

Risk: The possibility that an event will occur that adversely affects the achievement of objectives.

Risk Event: An incident or occurrence emanating from internal or external sources that affects implementation of strategy or achievement of objectives.

Risk Tolerance: The acceptable levels of variation relative to the achievement of objectives.

Safeguarding Objective: The objective of ensuring that assets are protected from loss or fraudulent activity.

Segregation of Duties: A control activity that prevents a single employee from performing and concealing an irregular transaction or event in the normal course of the employee's duties. Examples include:

- Duties for authorizing payment information, inputting new transactions, and verifying the accuracy of the transactions are functionally segregated.
- Software developers can have access to development and/or test data, but they should not have access to production data.

VI. INTERNAL CONTROLS OVERVIEW

Internal controls shall be applied to any process performed within the Department to ensure that the objectives of the business process are achieved within the acceptable level of risk. Internal controls provide assurance that potential risk events are prevented to the maximum extent possible. Properly designed, an internal control should provide more benefit than it costs. Risks events that may adversely impact achievement of objectives include but are not limited to:

- Loss or impairment of assets.
- Fraud upon the state.
- Misrepresentation of data.
- Failure to accomplish statutory requirements.
- Adverse publicity.
- Losing taxpayer trust.

Business process owners should consider the following five components when developing the system of internal controls for their business processes:

- Control Environment: This is the demonstrated competence, attention, and integrity of the people in the organization. The way people perform their work is a product of the organization's governance approach, organizational structure, management's philosophy, and ethical values.
- Risk Assessment: This involves identification and analysis of risks relevant to the achievement of the organization's objectives and forming a plan for determining how the risks should be managed. In considering its response, management should assess the effect on the risk likelihood and impact, as well as costs and benefits, selecting a response that brings residual risk within acceptable risk tolerances.
- Control Activities: These are the policies, procedures, and techniques used to enforce management directives and ensure that actions are taken to properly address risks.
- Monitoring: The system of internal controls is reviewed by management through monitoring. Monitoring tools and practices help ensure that internal controls are utilized and effective. These tools and practices should be adjusted or enhanced over time to remain sufficient for the current state of risks.
- Information and Communication: This component provides the means by which the results of control and monitoring activities are recorded, organized, and applied in managing the process.

The following describes types of control activities utilized to ensure successful achievement of each process objective.

- Preventive controls are used to reduce the likelihood that an adverse risk event will occur. Examples include: segregation of incompatible duties, system access controls, required authorizations, physical safeguards, check digits, and repetitive data entry.
- Directive controls cause or encourage achievement of a process objective. Examples include: policies, training programs, performance standards, and compensation incentives.
- Detective controls reveal or detect undesirable events. Examples include: output reviews, reconciliations, exception reports, physical inventory, and audits.
- Mitigating or Compensating controls at least partially make up for a missing, excessively costly, or impractical control. Examples include: monitoring performance variances or budgets instead of individual transactions; delegation of authority to a subordinate to keep a process functioning when the responsible person is absent; temporarily adopting substitute controls when preferable controls are not available (as may exist during disaster recovery); and obtaining insurance or bonding.

The determination of the appropriate combination of controls is based on the nature of the risk and the costs to implement the controls. Generally, preventive controls are preferred and more effective than detective controls alone because it may be less costly to prevent a problem than to identify and correct a problem that has already occurred. The absence of effective preventive controls increases the probability that adverse risk events may occur. Likewise, the absence of detective controls increases the probability that adverse risk events will not be exposed when they occur.

1. Delegating responsibility to business process owners for the accomplishment of each business process objective.
