Florida's International Trade

Dear friends,

An important part of my job as Florida's Chief Financial Officer is to keep my finger on the pulse of our state's economy, but what's even more important is that I keep you apprised about the state of our economic growth and development. One unique way of doing so is through our quarterly economic magazine called Florida's Bottom Line that focuses on providing the latest news and helpful analysis on Florida financial health. This week, we're releasing the magazine's summer edition, and we're talking about international trade.

International trade is one of the most important elements of our economy as it embodies the global success of business across our state. Successful international trade diversifies and grows our economy, and more than 60,000 Florida businesses have already reached far beyond our shores through innovation and hard work.

The movement of goods and services across a diverse array of global markets is no easy feat. It requires state-of-the-art technologies and logistics infrastructures, and I'm proud to say that Florida has succeeded at putting these complex systems in place. As the ever-innovating world economy continues to expand, Florida must continue to make strategic investments in order to remain a key player in major global trade lanes. Our investments are already at work--deepening our ports to accommodate larger ships and strengthening rail lines to increase the speed at which goods flow through our state.

This edition showcases Florida's growing presence as a hub for international trade, and our readiness to grow alongside global markets. Inside, you will find commentary from international trade experts, an update on the overall health of our economy, and the facts behind why Florida remains one of the most business-friendly states in the nation.

Visit www.myfloridacfo.com/FloridasBottomLine to get current and past editions. I hope you will find the information useful and engaging. I invite you all to learn more about this important and emerging piece of our state's economic future. By engaging

Sincerely,

Jeff Atwater

Central Florida Insurance Agent Arrested for Transacting Fraudulent Policies with a Suspended Insurance License

The Florida Department of Financial Services' Division of Insurance Fraud (DIF) announced the arrest of insurance agent Julia Shurdom, 67, for transacting insurance related business with a suspended insurance license, scheming to defraud, and uttering a forged document while working for Absolute Insurance Services in Orlando, Florida.

DIF received a complaint in regards to Ms. Shurdom, after a client who purchased homeowners' insurance in 2013 and 2014 discovered that her home had remained uninsured. DIF conducted an investigation surrounding the complaint and found, per her bank records, that Ms. Shurdom had collected two homeowners' insurance premium payments and used the money for personal profit.

During the investigation, DIF conducted a license search for the accused agent and realized that the Department's Division of Agent & Agency Services (A&A) had already begun investigating Ms. Shurdom for a series of unrelated events. A&A's investigation had subsequently resulted in a suspension of Ms. Shurdom's license to conduct insurance related business. A follow up audit by A&A, as well as the ongoing investigation by DIF, revealed that Ms. Shurdom continued to negotiate insurance policies without the proper licensing from the Department of Financial Services, and that the transactions conducted were fraudulent.

Miami Insurance Agent Arrested for Stealing More Than $80,000 From Clients

The Florida Department of Financial Services' Division of Insurance Fraud announced the arrest of Mandy Rodriguez, 35, on felony fraud and grand theft charges after an investigation revealed that Rodriguez, a licensed insurance agent, stole more than $80,000 in premium funds from four of his clients. In an effort to conceal that he was pocketing the money intended to pay the premiums on policies his clients thought were valid, Rodriguez created fake proof of insurance documents and gave them to his clients.

Rodriguez' clients believed they were paying for legitimate commercial or homeowners' insurance policies from Citizens Property Insurance Company, but Citizens verified that none of the policies ever existed. Rodriguez instructed his clients to write their premium checks to his company, Risk Management Agency Group, rather than to Citizens directly. Bank records show that the victims' checks were deposited into his company's account for personal use.

Detectives obtained a statement from Rodriguez acknowledging the creation of the fraudulent insurance documents as well as the deposit of the insurance premium money into his personal company's bank account. Once able to verify that the consumers had been duped, Citizens and Rodriguez's employer, Bentrust Insurance Group, worked together to secure proper insurance coverage that was paid up-to-date.

Mandy Rodriguez was booked into Turner Guilford Knight Correctional Center and is being charged with 1 count of Unlawfully Diverting Insurance Funds, 1 count of Scheme to Defraud, 5 counts of Insurance Fraud, 29 counts of Grand Theft, 5 counts of Forgery, and 5 counts of Uttering a Forged Instrument. The case is being prosecuted by the office of Miami-Dade County State Attorney Katherine Fernandez Rundle. The Department's Division of Agent and Agency Services, which licenses and investigates insurance agents in Florida, also participated in the investigation and aims to take administrative action against Rodriguez's insurance license.

Palm Beach County Insurance Agent Arrested for Falsifying $3 Million Worth of Life Insurance Policies

The Florida Department of Financial Services' Division of Insurance Fraud announced the arrest of Cledith E. Oakley III, owner of Asset, Insurance & Mortgage Services, Inc. or AIMS in Boynton Beach, on charges of grand theft and insurance fraud after it was discovered that he stole the identity and information of his business partner in an effort to conceal commission profits made from the sale of fraudulent life insurance policies. Oakley utilized his experience in the insurance industry to write fraudulent life insurance policies for himself and his two minor sons, and falsely inflated his income to qualify for high death benefit policies in order to obtain higher commissions.

An investigation conducted in conjunction with the Department's Division of Agent and Agency Services' Bureau of Investigation revealed that Oakley, a licensed insurance agent, executed an elaborate scheme in which he created a shell company, AIMS, and directed an employee to file false applications for life insurance policies in excess of $3 million. As the head of AIMS, Oakley received monetary commissions from the sale of the policies but purposefully neglected to pay the subsequent premium payments. When confronted by investigators, Oakley admitted to intentionally defrauding insurance companies for the sole purpose of receiving commission payouts.

Oakley's scheme unraveled when the business partner whose identity was stolen became suspicious and contacted the Florida Division of Insurance Fraud. Bank records subpoenaed as part of the investigation proved that Oakley was the sole signer on bank accounts that contained the fraudulently obtained commission payouts. Bank records further proved that Oakley withdrew funds from these accounts for personal use. In total, Oakley acquired nearly $30,000 in commissions from the sale of five bogus policies that totaled $3 million in coverage.

Division of Insurance Fraud Announces the Arrest of Orlando Insurance Agent for Defrauding Insurance Company of More Than $150,000

The Florida Department of Financial Services' Division of Insurance Fraud announced the arrest of Orlando insurance agent Joseph Oddo, 46, for defrauding Ameritas Life Insurance Corp. of more than $150,000 in commission payments he was not entitled to.

The investigation revealed that Oddo fraudulently used his mother's name and insurance license to sell 19 Ameritas Life Corp. insurance policies because he was not appointed to sell for the company. With each policy sale, Oddo collected an advanced commission and represented to his clients that a special program permitted him to provide a 'free' life insurance policy. Bank records and interviews with Joseph Oddo's clients showed that for a short time, Oddo deposited premium funds into his clients' bank accounts - funds that Ameritas would later debit from the account for premium payments.

However, Oddo stopped paying the premiums causing the policies to lapse. By failing to keep the policies current, Oddo had not earned the commission payments that were advanced to him and was stealing from the insurance company.

After learning of a warrant for his arrest, Joseph Oddo turned himself into the Orange County Jail. His bond was set at $20,000, and he is charged with one count of Scheme to Defraud over $50,000 and one count of Fraudulent Use of Personal Identification Information. His case will be prosecuted by the office of State Attorney Jeffrey L Ashton, and he faces up to 35 years in prison if convicted. The Department's Division of Agents & Agency Services has suspended his license to transact insurance in Florida.

Miami Insurance Representatives Arrested for Transacting Business Without a License

The Florida Department of Financial Services' Division of Insurance Fraud announced the arrests of Luis Alfredo Hernandez, 51, and Etiame Caridad Ramjohn, 35, for transacting insurance without a license. Ramjohn, a convicted felon, and Hernandez were employed with Trinity Insurance Agency in Miami.

Hernandez and Ramjohn were found to have been transacting insurance-related business at Trinity Insurance Agency during a site inspection conducted by the Department's Division of Agent & Agency Services' Bureau of Investigation. The inspection stemmed from Hernandez's application for an insurance agent license that was not completed, which led investigators to believe he was transacting without a license.

Anytime an application for licensure gets denied or closed without approval, the Department of Financial Services' Division of Agent & Agency Services' Bureau of Investigation tracks the applicant's business transactions to make sure they do not attempt to conduct business without the proper licensing.

Investigators not only found Hernandez and Ramjohn to be conducting unlicensed insurance business, but Ramjohn had also previously been denied a customer representative license and was permanently barred from the insurance industry. The investigation revealed that Hernandez and Ramjohn were obtaining insurance policies and signing the name of another agent who was absent during the time of the transactions.

In addition to what was found during the site inspection, Hernandez and Ramjohn were also found to have sold and quoted multiple insurance policies for Trinity Insurance Agency. It was determined that Hernandez was involved in the transaction and sale of at least 155 insurance policies, and Ramjohn was involved in at least 31 policies, submitted to United Automobile Insurance Company. During the investigation, additional customers were located and they identified Hernandez and Ramjohn as the persons that sold them their motor vehicle insurance.

The state of Florida requires that any person performing the duties of an insurance agent or customer representative must hold the proper licenses issued by the Department of Financial Services.

Three Miami Residents Arrested for PIP Fraud Totaling More Than $99,000 in Financial Losses

The Florida Department of Financial Services' Division of Insurance Fraud announced the arrests of Miami residents Mariela Quintana, 46, Noel Vazquez Lazo, 44, and Rodney Fabian, 27, for their involvement in separate fraudulent personal injury protection or PIP insurance schemes. These three individuals are held accountable for nearly $100,000 in financial losses after their plans to execute multiple PIP schemes were disrupted by a Division of Insurance Fraud investigation.

Mariela Quintana was a licensed massage therapist at D & J Rehabilitation Center in Miami and was charged for fraudulently billing nearly $10,000 in claims after she allegedly signed off on treatment forms for procedures she never performed. This is the second time in less than six months that she has been arrested for similar activity at the same clinic. This time she's been charged with Insurance Fraud, Grand Theft, and Organized Scheme to Defraud.

Noel Vazquez Lazo directed a staged accident that resulted in fraudulent claims in excess of $89,000. Lazo paid for the policy of the at-fault vehicle used in the accident and paid the participants in these schemes to seek treatment for fake injuries. As a result of his actions Lazo faces charges which include Organizing a Staged Accident, Insurance Fraud, and Grand Theft.

Rodney Fabian has been charged with Solicitation, Patient Brokering, Insurance Fraud, and Grand Theft for his role in soliciting the victim of a hit and run accident and offering to pay them for visiting a specific clinic for treatment. Fabian paid the victim $1,000 as part of their agreement, but, because the insurance company suspected fraud, the claims were not processed and Fabian tried to demand the money back.

Charlotte County Restaurant Fire Uncovers Sale of Fake Insurance

Policy

Leaving Restaurant Owner to Cover $120,000 in Fire Damages

The Florida Department of Financial Services announced the arrest of Punta Gorda resident William Reese for acting as an unlicensed insurance agent and selling a fake insurance policy to local restaurant owner, Luis Rivera, owner of Two Brothers Home Style Cooking located in Punta Gorda.

Luis Rivera purchased what he believed was a valid insurance policy from William Reese, who claimed to be a licensed agent out of New York. Reese, however, pocketed the money and because he was not licensed to sell insurance, no valid insurance policy was ever secured.

A fire broke out inside the restaurant in April 2015 and assistance from the State Fire Marshal's office, which also operates under the direction of Chief Financial Officer Jeff Atwater, was requested to investigate the cause of the fire.

During the course of that investigation, Luis Rivera provided investigators a copy of his proof of insurance, also known as a certificate of insurance, only to find out that the certificate was bogus. This meant that his business, which suffered $120,000 in fire damages, was uninsured at the time of the fire.

Unlawful or Unauthorized Charging of Fees

The Department has received an increasing number of inquiries from Florida agents and agencies asking if they can charge fees for policies or services, such as issuing certificates of coverage, to obtain additional compensation. Charging fees is unlawful under the Florida Insurance Code. Subsection 626.9541(1)(o), F.S., states that it is unlawful for any licensee to collect any sum connected with the purchase of insurance that is not forwarded to the appropriate insurer, or part of the insurer's rates as filed with the Florida Office of Insurance Regulation, or otherwise designated as lawful within the Florida Insurance Code. This law applies to all licensees, including agencies and surplus lines agents.

The Department will vigorously investigate all allegations of unlawful fees and take the appropriate enforcement action for the overcharging of Florida consumers in insurance transactions.

Education Central

- Things to know about your continuing education

How to Keep CE non-compliance from Costing You Your Job

Now that you have worked so hard to get your license the last thing you want to do is lose it. One of the most important things to remember is the completion date of your continuing education (CE) requirements. You have two years to complete each CE requirement cycle, but don't make the mistake of procrastinating until the last minute, then blame the dog for eating your homework when you fail to comply. It is important to know your due date but not completing any CE until the last minute could create unintended consequences to your license standing. A good rule of thumb is to complete your CE requirements as early as possible so if you run into any issues, you won't be scrambling at the last minute to get them resolved.

If you wait too long and fail to comply with CE requirements, several negative actions may occur: you may be charged a $250 fine, or face termination of your appointments. Either could create a burden on you and your employer. The Florida Insurance Code requires that a licensee maintain at least one appointment order to lawfully conduct insurance business. Lack of an appointment clearly places you and your employer in an undesirable position. If you lose your appointment(s) and eventually complete your CE requirements your employer will be required to reappoint you be charged a $60 fee per appointment. Appointments are made at the discretion of your employer and it may choose not to reappoint you. Finally, after you have not held an appointment for 48 consecutive months your license will automatically expire and you will need to reapply for a license as a first time applicant. Don't find yourself playing the lead role in this scenario.

The responsibility to maintain your license requirements falls on your shoulders. An important resource the Department offers to keep you updated is your MyProfile account. Make it a habit to log-in regularly to review what is there. MyProfile is the main portal the Department uses to communicate with you about your license and review your CE requirements. You can check your CE status by clicking on the blue button labeled 'Click to check CE Status' - you will find your due date, your individual requirements and any completed course credits that have been applied to your transcript.

We understand that you may forget to check your MyProfile account and or read Department emails. The Department sends correspondence to you that is important for you to read. If you receive a Department message via email or in your MyProfile account, take the time to read it. If you don't understand what you are reading or how it may affect your license, call our Helpline at 1-877-693-5236 for assistance. Monitoring your CE status could mean the difference between earning a paycheck or not.

Are You Compliant with Your CE or Not?

To be CE compliant requires more than just taking CE courses. Below are a few suggestions for remaining CE compliant:

- CE requirements change. You should regularly review your CE status through your MyProfile account. Your total hours have specific allocation requirements that must be met. Be sure to take all the right categories of CE courses.
- Check for late hours. Hours taken after your due date will still post on your compliance evaluation screen, but they will be noted as "Late". Though your hours requirement may have been met, late completion of your continuing education requirement will result in penalties.
- Check prior evaluation periods. Always check previous compliance periods to make sure you are not delinquent for a prior period. Be sure to click on VIEW ENFORCEMENT NOTICE just below the Not Compliant text to check for any outstanding fines.
- Check your transcript. The same course cannot be taken with the same provider within a three-year period and receive credit. This is noted on your transcript as a duplicate course. You will need to take a different course to meet your CE requirement.

We wish you success in completing your hours to remain knowledgeable in an ever-changing insurance market. And remember, your CE compliance date is your DUE date, not your DO date.

How to Search for Approved CE Courses

Looking for continuing education (CE) courses to be sure you get all your hours completed? Our online course search can easily help you by listing those courses approved by the Department.

1. Go to our website at www.MyFloridaCFO.com/Division/Agents.
2. Click on MyProfile on the left panel and log in to your account.
3. Once in your MyProfile inbox, click on Locate at the top left. Then click on Future Course Offerings.
4. Select the Course Authority for the type of license held or course you need to take.
5. You can also make other choices, like Study Method and Location, to narrow your search results.
6. If you click on Perform an Advanced Search, you will have additional options to narrow your search results, such as Course Date and Course Level.

Because many factors may affect your continuing education requirement (e.g. licenses held, number of years licensed, etc.), we encourage you to periodically check your MyProfile account to determine your individual continuing education compliance requirements and status. You will also be able to find more approved CE courses after logging in to your MyProfile account versus the public search option, which limits the results to the first 100 course offerings.

Compliance Corner

This section has been created to assist you in keeping your insurance business in compliance. The items are intended as reminders only and are not necessarily the exact text of the Florida Statutes or Florida Administrative Code. The legal cites have been provided for your further reference.

Reminder When Selling or Leaving Ownership of an Insurance Agency

If an insurance agency that holds a license is sold, the license should be cancelled by the current owner and the new owner must apply for a new insurance agency license. Additionally, any insurance agency that is licensed under a social security number should request termination of the agency license if the owner of the social security number sells or leaves the insurance agency. The party assuming ownership of the agency should then apply for a new agency license. Cancellation or termination of the agency license can be requested on the Cancellation Notice for Insurance Agency Licensure \(DFS-H2-1997\) form.

Adjusting Firms: Designate a Primary Adjuster

The primary adjuster law states that each person operating an adjusting firm and each location of a multiple location adjusting firm must designate a primary adjuster for each such firm or location. The statute also defines a primary adjuster as the licensed adjuster who is responsible for the hiring and supervision of all individuals within an adjusting firm location who deal with the public and who acts in the capacity of a public adjuster as defined in sec. 626.854, F.S. or an independent adjuster as defined in sec. 626.855, F.S. An adjuster may be designated as a primary adjuster for only one adjusting firm location.

Primary adjusters must be designated by submitting a properly completed form DFS-H2-6364 to the Department. There is no cost to designate a primary adjuster but it could cost you disciplinary action including a fine for failing to do so.

See Section [626.8695, Florida Statutes]

Reporting and Accounting for Funds

All premiums, return premiums, or other funds belonging to insurers or others received by an agent, insurance agency, customer representative, or adjuster in transactions under the license are trust funds received by the licensee in a fiduciary capacity.

Every licensee shall preserve books, accounts, and records pertaining to a premium payment for at least five (5) years after payment; provided, however, the preservation of records by electronic complies with this requirement. All other records shall be maintained in accordance with sec. 626.748, F.S.. The five year requirement shall not apply to insurance binders when no policy is ultimately issued and no premium is collected.

Any agent, insurance agency, customer representative, or adjuster who, not being lawfully entitled thereto, either temporarily or permanently diverts or misappropriates such funds or any portion thereof or deprives the other person of a benefit therefrom commits a criminal offense and may additionally be subject to administrative action. Bail bond agents are required to maintain records for at least three years.

Licensees are required to maintain records, or have records made readily accessible by electronic or photographic means for inspection by the department. Failure to provide access to the department can result in disciplinary action, up to a six month suspension.

Case Notes

The following are instances in which licensees or other persons violated the Florida Insurance Code and the administrative action the Department has taken against them. Note: All administrative investigations are subject to referral to the Division of Insurance Fraud for criminal investigation.

Case: An investigation found a general lines agent systematically overcharged her clients for homeowners insurance premiums, resulting in numerous unsuspecting clients paying hundreds of dollars in fraudulent charges. To conceal the overcharges, the agent falsified a variety of insurance documents to reflect the fraudulently increased premiums.

Disposition: Suspended six months, ordered to pay restitution to the consumers and complete 10 hours of coursework in ethics.

Case: During an agency inspection, investigators found 89 entries made in a binder log by an unlicensed agency employee, whose Customer Representative's license had expired eight years earlier. The entries corresponded to multiple consumers, policies, and policy transactions over a period of six months. Documents obtained during the investigation confirmed the employee had requested insurance quotes, uploaded endorsements, and submitted new insurance business to insurance companies while unlicensed to do so. Consumers contacted by investigators confirmed the unlicensed employee had provided quotes, wrote their insurance applications, and explained insurance coverage to them.

Disposition: Immediately and permanently removed from the insurance business in the state of Florida. The Division of Insurance Fraud arrested the employee for transacting insurance without a license and appointment, a third-degree felony.

Case: An investigation determined a life, health, and variable annuity agent failed to report administrative action taken against him by the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA), in which he was barred from associating with any FINRA member in any capacity.

Disposition: License surrendered.

Case: An investigation into "termination for cause" of an agent by an insurance company determined a life, health and variable annuity agent had unlawfully paid insurance premiums for a client and rebated part of the commission to the client. The agent sold life insurance to a consumer, and after two years, instructed the consumer to name a partnership as the owner and beneficiary of the policy. The agent had previously convinced the client to set up the partnership with him. The agent owned 90% of the partnership and the client, 10%. The agent also facilitated the purchase of an immediate annuity by the partnership to fund the life insurance premium, and unlawfully designated himself as the beneficiary for the life insurance policy.

Disposition: License surrendered.

Case: An investigation initiated due to consumer complaints determined an agency owner failed to ensure premiums were remitted to insurers on a timely basis resulting in the lapse or non-issue of insurance coverage, failed to return unearned premiums to consumers, and allowed an unlicensed person to transact insurance business. The agency owner also failed to properly designate an agent in charge for all agencies.

Disposition: Fined $7,500, placed on probation for one year.

Case: An investigation into a bail bond agent's records revealed he failed to remit $7,216 in bail bond premiums to a surety company, to provide records to the surety company for audit, and failed to notify the Department he had closed his bail bond agency.

Disposition: Suspended for 18 months and ordered to remit the unpaid premiums. The agent must show proof the unpaid premiums were remitted to be eligible to reapply for his license after 18 months.

Case: An investigation into the activities of a School Official and course Instructor found he developed and distributed unauthorized course manuals to teach the state required pre-licensing courses for the Life, Health and Variable annuity license.

Disposition: Fined $1,500, required to pay department investigative costs of $1,000 and $750 in restitution.

Case: An investigation into administrative action taken against a life, health and variable annuity agent by his home state determined the agent failed to report the action within 30 days of the action to the department or the National Insurance Producer Registry (NIPR).

Disposition: Fined $750. The agent failed pay the fine in 30 days as agreed and was automatically suspended for 60 days.

Case: An investigation was initiated related to an agency's advertising. Investigators determined the agency had obtained an approved advertisement from an insurer, but made changes to the ad that violated insurance laws. During the course of the investigation, it was determined the agency was not properly licensed.

Disposition: Fined $1,500 each and placed on probation for one year

Enforcement Actions
