

Honoring Florida's Fallen Firefighters

Dear Friends,

Earlier this month, I was blessed yet again with the opportunity to attend our annual Florida Fallen Firefighter Memorial event at the Florida State Fire College in Ocala. The combined efforts of all those who are involved in the planning of this event have ensured that a standard of excellence is present when providing consolation for our firefighters who have fallen while pursuing one of the most noble professions known to humanity.

As the sun shined bright and a cool fall breeze swept through the ceremony grounds, I knew each of the individuals who are represented by the 184 names engraved on our memorial's marble slate were looking down on us. With each of their histories staring back at me through the eyes of their friends and family, it brought me great joy to announce at this year's event that Florida did not lose a single firefighter in the line of duty since we met at the ceremony grounds one year ago.

This year, we honored Captain Glen Rhodes of the Sanibel Fire Control District who lost his life while trying to save that of another more than 45 years ago. Along with his son, a fellow professional, Captain Rhodes was fulfilling a call to rescue an individual who was undergoing cardiac arrest. The captain passed away doing what he loved, with someone he loved -- his family. Once you join the firefighter family, it is one that you never leave and this year's event showed just that.

Again, to all of those who worked tirelessly to make this year's event one to remember, thank you. To all those who were in attendance, thank you. To our firefighters, the noble among us who have chosen to live the calling of a fire servicemember, thank you. And for everyone else in our great state, remember, every 11 seconds our emergency responders are racing to a call. Inside that fire engine or ambulance is a cabin filled with individuals who risk their own lives to protect us. So when you see the lights, and when you hear the sirens, pause and pray for those who have committed to ensuring the safety and well-being of you, and me, and our fellow Floridians.

Multi-Agency Sting Leads to 11 Arrests in Manatee County

The Department of Financial Services' Division of Investigative and Forensic Services (DIFS) announced 11 arrests following a multi-agency undercover workers' compensation and unlicensed contracting sting in Manatee County. The individuals arrested were found to have advertised their ability to perform jobs such as plumbing and electrical work without the proper licensing or training, and without having workers' compensation coverage to protect their employees in the event of an accident or injury.

"When contractors knowingly neglect the law, a major liability risk is created for property owners," said CFO Jeff Atwater. "Not only are homeowners liable for any injuries that occur to uncovered workers on their property, but sub-par work performed by unlicensed and untrained contractors also creates a direct hazard for the property. This is a practice we, along with our local and state law enforcement partners, are working diligently to stop."

CONSUMER ALERT: FEMA Extends Filing Deadline from 60 Days to 90 Days for NFIP Flood Insurance Claims Associated with Hurricane Hermine

After productive discussions between Insurance Commissioner David Altmaier and representatives of the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) on ways to assist Floridians impacted by the widespread flooding caused by Hurricane Hermine, an extension of 30 days has been granted for National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP) policyholders to file claims. Typically, NFIP policyholders have 60 days to file a "Proof of Loss" claim with their insurance company following the date of loss. This extension gives Florida NFIP policyholders a total of 90 days to make a claim for flooding damages sustained as a result of Hurricane Hermine.

This prohibition applies to an inspection intended for submission to an insurer in order to obtain property insurance coverage or establish the applicable property insurance premium. See s.[626.621\(15\), F.S.]

Education Central

- Things to know about your continuing education

Are You Compliant with Your CE or Not?

To be CE compliant requires more than just taking CE courses. Below are a few suggestions for remaining CE compliant:

- CE requirements change. You should regularly review your CE status through your MyProfile account. Your total hours have specific allocation requirements that must be met. Be sure to take all the right categories of CE courses.
- Check for late hours. Hours taken after your due date will still post on your compliance evaluation screen, but they will be noted as "Late". Though your hours requirement may have been met, late completion of your continuing education requirement will result in penalties.
- Check prior evaluation periods. Always check previous compliance periods to make sure you are not delinquent for a prior period. Be sure to click on VIEW ENFORCEMENT NOTICE just below the Not Compliant text to check for any outstanding fines.
- Check your transcript. The same course cannot be taken with the same provider within a three-year period and receive credit. This is noted on your transcript as a duplicate course. You will need to take a different course to meet your CE requirement.

We wish you success in completing your hours to remain knowledgeable in an ever-changing insurance market. And remember, your CE compliance date is your DUE date, not your DO date.

Because many factors may affect your continuing education requirement (e.g. licenses held, number of years licensed, etc.), we encourage you to periodically check your MyProfile account to determine your individual continuing education compliance requirements and status. You will also be able to find more approved CE courses after logging in to your MyProfile account versus the public search option, which limits the results to the first 100 course offerings.

Compliance Topic of the Month ~ Contractors Acting As Public Adjusters

Public Adjuster License Needed To Assist With Claims

Sometimes contractors attempt to help victims of disasters by offering assistance with their insurance claim. If they do, they may illegally be engaging in the practice of public adjusting without being properly licensed by the Department of Financial Services.

A public adjuster is defined in s. 626.854, F.S., as any person, except an attorney, who, for money or any other thing of value (which would include securing a contract for repairs):

- Prepares, completes or files an insurance claim form for an insured
- Aids an insured in negotiating for or effecting the settlement of a claim
- Advertises for employment as an adjuster of such claims

However, the contractor may discuss or explain a bid for construction or repair of covered property with the residential property owner who has suffered loss or damage covered by a property insurance policy, or the insurer of such property, if the contractor is doing so for the usual and customary fees applicable to the work to be performed as stated in the contract between the contractor and the insured. See s. [626.854\(1\), F.S.]

If you are acting as a public adjuster in any manner by negotiating or effecting the settlement of an insurance claim on behalf of an insured and you are performing any of these services for money, commission or anything of value without being licensed as a public adjuster, you could be subject to arrest and may be charged with a third-degree felony as provided by s. 626.8738, F.S.

If you become licensed as a Public Adjuster, you cannot enter into a contract to do both the public adjusting and construction work on the same property per s. 626.8795, F.S., Public adjusters; prohibition of conflict of interest:

"A public adjuster may not participate, directly or indirectly, in the reconstruction, repair, or restoration of damaged property that is the subject of a claim adjusted by the licensee; may not engage in any other activities that may be reasonably construed as a conflict of interest, including soliciting or accepting any remuneration from, of any kind or nature, directly or indirectly; and may not have a financial interest in any salvage, repair, or any other business entity that obtains business in connection with any claim that the public adjuster has a contract or an agreement to adjust."

If you have any questions about the activities constitute acting as a public adjuster, please contact the Department of Financial Services' Bureau of Investigation at Adjusters@MyFloridaCFO.com.

See See DBPR Fall 2007 Newsletter.

Business And Trade Practices

Your profession as a licensed and appointed agent or adjuster engages the public trust. Therefore, your insurance activities and your business practices must be conducted in accordance with the laws and regulations of Florida. There are certain prohibited practices, such as false advertising, unfair discrimination, unfair claim practices, coercion, providing free insurance, unlawful rebates, refusing to insure, misrepresentation, premium surcharges and illegal dealings in premiums that would be considered an unfair trade practice. Please review s. 626.9541, F.S., for the full text of the unfair trade practices laws.

Reporting of Actions Against You

You are required to let us know within 30 days of a final disposition of any administrative action. This includes any action by a governmental agency in this or any other state or jurisdiction relating to the business of insurance, the sale of securities, or activity involving fraud, dishonesty, trustworthiness, or breach of fiduciary duty. A copy of the order, consent to order or other relevant legal documents should be directed to: The Florida Department of Financial Services, Bureau of Licensing, 200 East Gaines Street, Tallahassee, FL 32399-0319, or by email to AgentLicensing@MyFloridaCFO.com. See s. [626.536, F.S.]

You must inform the Department in writing within 30 days after pleading guilty or nolo contendere to, or being convicted or found guilty of, any felony or a crime punishable by imprisonment of 1 year or more under the law of the United States or of any state thereof, or under the law of any other country without regard to whether a judgment of conviction has been entered by the court having jurisdiction of the case. See s. 626.451\(7\), F.S.

Information on Navigators and Registering

There is Florida law regarding the registering and regulation of the "Navigator" position created by federal health care reform. The law states:

- Individuals acting as a "navigator" under the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (PPACA), commonly known as the Affordable Care Act or ACA, are required to be registered with the Florida Department of Financial Services (DFS).
- To be registered as a navigator, an individual must:
 - Be a natural person at least 18 years of age;
 - Be United States citizen or legal alien who possesses work authorization from the United States Bureau of Citizenship and Immigration Services;
 - Submit the application for registration by answering all of the questions and paying the fees to complete the online application;
 - Provide official certification that he or she has successfully completed all required training by the federal government and has been certified by them as a Marketplace Navigator for the 2017 enrollment period. The certificate of completion that states it is "not an official certification record" is not sufficient. Please provide the official certificate that has the navigator's unique ID number assigned by the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) and the organization they are employed;
 - Submit fingerprints for a criminal background check (certain crimes may disqualify an applicant from registration).

- A navigator is prohibited from:
 - Soliciting, negotiating, or selling health insurance;
 - Recommending the purchase of a particular health plan or represent that one health plan is preferable over any other;
 - Recommending or assisting with the cancellation of insurance coverage purchased outside the Exchange;
 - Receiving compensation or anything of value from an insurer, health plan, business, or consumer in connection with performing activities as a navigator, other than from the Exchange or an entity or individual who has received a navigator grant under the PPACA.
- Grounds for suspension or revocation of registration and authorizes DFS to impose an administrative fine in lieu of, or in addition to suspension or revocation.
- Any person who acts as a navigator without registration is subject to an administrative penalty not to exceed $1,500.

Navigators are required to adhere to strict security and privacy standards – including how to safeguard a consumer’s personal information. They are required to complete training by the federal government to be certified, will take additional federal training throughout the year, and will renew their federal certification yearly. All types of enrollment assisters – including Certified Application Counselors and agents/brokers – are required to complete specific training and are subject to federal criminal penalties for violations of privacy or fraud statutes, on top of any relevant state law penalties.

Individuals interested in becoming Navigators should contact the entities that are awarded Navigator grants by the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) for potential employment opportunities. Navigators are not hired directly by the federal government or the Marketplace.

The training curriculum for Navigators is available on the Marketplace website - <http://marketplace.cms.gov>. Please know that completion of the federal navigator curriculum does not automatically qualify an individual to become a navigator.

Certified Marketplace Application Counselors are not required to be registered as a navigator by the Florida Department of Financial Services (DFS) as they are not regulated by DFS. If you are a certified Marketplace Application Counselor, please do not apply for registration as a Florida navigator.

If you are already registered in Florida as a navigator, you do not need to re-apply, re-qualify, or re-register with the DFS. Please be sure to check your registration status via your MyProfile account. You only need to email your Marketplace Navigator certificate for the 2017 enrollment period to the Department.

Compliance Information

Department licensees and consumers can access compliance information at the Division of Insurance Agent and Agency Services' web page Compliance Information. Additional information is available by type of license at our Frequently Asked Questions web page.

Case Notes

The following are instances in which licensees or other persons violated the Florida Insurance Code and the administrative action the Department has taken against them. Note: All administrative investigations are subject to referral to the Division of Investigative & Forensic Services for criminal investigation.

Case: Investigators received a complaint from a consumer that a bail bond agent failed to return collateral provided for a bail bond upon discharge of the bond. The complainant was the indemnitor and had used a credit card to make a $6,000 collateral payment to indemnify the bond.

Investigators obtained a statement from the consumer that he paid the bail bond agent $6,516, which included the bail bond premium and collateral. The bail bond agent's bank records were analyzed to confirm deposit of the funds in dispute.

During an agency inspection, the bail bond agent was unable to produce record of the transaction or the required daily bond register. Through investigators' efforts, the consumer received a refund of the funds paid, less the bail bond premium and 3% charge for the credit card transaction fee.

Disposition: Fined $5,816.

Case: The Department was notified by an insurance company that a life insurance agent was terminated for cause. Investigators requested insurance company records of complaints or suspicious transactions and determined that the agent had surrendered five consumers' existing life insurance policies and submitted applications for new policies without their knowledge or consent. Investigators obtained statements from each of the affected consumers that signatures on the documents were not their true signatures. In each case, the agent used the cash value from the surrendered policies to pay the first annual premium for the replacement policies. The agent earned new first year commissions for the sales, but left the consumers with higher premiums they were unable to afford. The policies lapsed for non-payment of premium, leaving the consumers without life insurance. The insurance company cancelled the fraudulently issued policies and reinstated the insureds' original policies.

Disposition: License revoked.

Case: An investigation was opened on a health insurance agent after receiving a complaint from an insurer that the agent had given the questions and answers for the insurer's annual Medicare training certification course to agents who worked in the agency he was employed by. During the course of the investigation, the agent was interviewed by investigators about the allegations. The agent told investigators he felt he "owned" the questions and answers from the course exam because he had paid to attend the course and could share them if he chose to do so.

Disposition: Fined $2,700 and placed on probation for one year.

Case: Investigators opened a case after a routine follow-up of an agency that had lost its agency license for failing to designate a new Agent in Charge. The agent, the new officer and Agent in Charge, had applied for a new agency license and submitted a notarized statement to the Department attesting the agency had not transacted insurance business while unlicensed. Investigators obtained documentation from the insurance companies the agent was appointed with and found the agency had conducted insurance business during the period it was unlicensed.

Disposition: Fined $500 and placed on probation for one year.

Case: An insurance company filed a complaint with the Department alleging a life, health and variable annuity agent had misappropriated funds, forged signatures, altered applications, submitted fraudulent applications, and participated in unlicensed activity. During the course of investigation, documents were obtained from the insurer indicating the agent had submitted at least 153 applications listing his personal bank account information, address, email address and telephone number on the application. Investigators determined other information on the applications including dates of birth and social security numbers were fictitious.

Disposition: License revoked.

Case: The Department's Division of Investigative & Forensic Services notified investigators of the arrest of a title insurance agent. The agent was arrested on a count of Scheme to Defraud, alleging that she closed a real estate transaction listing a title insurance policy for a title insurance underwriter she was not authorized to represent. In addition, the agent's agency was not properly licensed or appointed to transact insurance at the time of the alleged violation. During the course of the investigation, it was discovered that the agent diverted funds from several real estate closings for her own personal use, with a total financial loss to the victims in excess of $350,000.

Disposition: License surrendered with the same force and effect as revocation.

Case: The Florida Office of Insurance Regulation (OIR) sent a referral to investigators advising that a title insurance agency failed to submit data for the 2015 Title Data Call. The subsequent investigation confirmed that the Subject did in fact fail to file the required data. The representative for the title agency told investigators he did not wish to disrupt his business operations to take time to comply with the Data Call requirements mandated by Florida Statutes. Despite efforts by investigators to mitigate the violation by offering to assist the title agency with complying, the Data Call filing was not submitted.

Disposition: License suspended for six months; the agency must submit proof it has complied with the Data Call before license reinstatement will be considered.
