

FINANCIAL FRONTLINES

The Florida Department of Financial Services invites military servicemembers and their families to learn more about how to protect their Financial Frontlines.

As a military servicemember you are well-trained for the physical dangers of protecting our nation, but you may not be fully prepared for the financial risks that you face as a result of the unique challenges of your service.

The Financial Frontlines website provides information and resources to help military servicemembers fight back against financial fraud and debt, including information and educational videos related to:

- Identity theft
- Servicemembers Civil Relief Act
- Credit scoring
- Budgeting & saving
- Predatory lending
